

The Maxwell DISC Method

Your individual personality affects every aspect of your life. That's why one of the best things you can do to grow yourself and others is to understand your personality and what naturally drives you. When you recognize your strengths and weaknesses, you can give your best as you work with people around you.

Using the Maxwell Method of DISC with Your DISC Coach will help you understand yourself and everyone you encounter. When you understand how everyone is motivated differently, communicates differently and views tasks and relationships differently you're on the path to accomplishing your goals! Learn about yourself to help you lead others.

Do you want to know how to improve your team's communication and solve conflicts? Do you want to know how to better encourage your team members? Do you need to learn the fears, strengths and weaknesses of your team members or future recruits to better match jobs to individuals? Do you want to know how your people can function under stress? Do you have relationship issues?
